his week is water, with oil, is also a consideration. It is a fact that many bar-rooms are just a minute's walk from the city hall, and the city hall is just a minute's walk from the city hall.

department. Lace curtains, table linens, and there are many other things that are not mentioned in the list. The prices are very low, and the quality is very good.

One of the great features of "The People's Palace" is its carpet department, where all the newest weaves and patterns in standard makes can be had at the lowest prices.

Savonneries in delicate shades, suitable for drawing rooms or bedrooms where a high grade of floor covering is wanted, are being sold at prices which cannot help appealing to the thrifty housekeeper.

A special in tapestry Brussels is offered at 44 cents, in Delft and old blue, red and shades of ecru. A fine quality of Wilton velvet sells for 80 cents, in shades of rose, blue and olive, and new designs in ingrain may be had in body Brussels effects for 30 cents.

The rug department holds many attractions for admirers of textile art. The new Stamboul rug offers Oriental effects in colors and patterns at prices ranging from $3.00 to $13.70.

These are quite large enough to cover an ordinary sized room. A large line of Smyrna rugs is always in stock, in Turkish, Persian and Dresden styles. A number of attractions are shown in new wave art squares after the order of Brussels carpets, Martingales, oilcloths and linens are always in stock, and in the newest designs.

The different furniture departments are simply bewildering in their display of sumptuous attractions, to name half of which would require an entire page. One large room is devoted to the most exquisite gold, enamel and lacquer furniture, examples of Louis XIV, Marie Antoinette, First Empire, Chippendale, Dutch, mahogany, and Delft decorated odds and ends for dining room, boudoir and bedroom.

Some of the most fascinating little sofas imaginable, chairs prettily enough for ornaments, the rarest of Venetian-Martin tables and roan cabinets, Louis XV and Louis XVI chairs, can be found in this department.

The parlor has its own domain, where only drawing room furnishings are considered. There, parlor suites of all kinds and colors may be found, at prices to defy competition. A special feature this week will be a mahoganyized set of five pieces, consisting of sofa, armchair, two side chairs and a corner chair, covered in silk brocade or damask, marked at $23.

Many other bargains will be found there, one, also a set of five pieces, sofa, divan, arm and two side chairs, being offered at $35. This set is covered in silk damask or brocade, with plush trimmings, and comes in Empire green, dark or light blue, sage, shrimp, Nile, crimson, old gold, olive and bronze.

In the couch and sofa department, everything for luxurious ease is on view at most tempting prices. Couches in corduroy, cretonne and tapestry may be had from $5.50 upward. Comfort-inviting Turkish spring-edge couches range in price from $21 upward. Wardrobe couches come as low as $12. In denim or corduroy; bed couches from $23, and sofa beds from $24.

Reception room furniture can be had in every variety at Baumann's. Mahoganyized Empire suites of five pieces, sofa, divan, arm and two side chairs, cost from $25 up to velours of striped velvet. Mahoganyized frames, inlaid with pearl, come in five pieces, upholstered in Louis XVI brocade, from $35 upward.

These are only samples of bargains to be found in a few departments. In the sections devoted to inexpensive chamber furniture, folding beds, children's chamber furniture and library furniture, equal inducements are offered.

Will Be Bigger Yet. Next Spring "The People's Palace" will be enlarged by the addition of a twelve-story annex, which is now in course of erection. The facade will be of Indiana limestone and white brick, and the new salesrooms in this great wing will contain every convenience for the comfort of customers, and advantage for the display of goods.

An item of interest to out-of-town purchasers should not be forgotten. All goods are packed and shipped free of charge, and freight paid to any part of the United States. Railroad fares are also paid, but personal selection of purchases is quite unnecessary, the firm's very complete illustrated catalogue making it possible to furnish an entire house by mail. The mail order department is a feature of our establishment. As many as 100 catalogues are sent out from it every day, free, upon the payment of ten cents for postage.

To Make the Home Bright. Lamps of all kinds also find a place in this department. Tall banquet lamps, parlor lamps, piano lamps, hanging lamps, wall lamps, reading and student lamps, even kitchen lamps are to be found there, and all accessories for them—shades of silk, lace, paper, and glass—at all prices. Gas features in Tontit ware, which has the soft, ivory-like finish of Royal Worcester, the melting tints and graceful forms characteristic of that ware, and at less than half its cost.

Under lease from the West Shore Railroad, Baumann & Co. virtually have all of the upper floors of that road's extensive houses at the foot of West Thirty-third street, the floor of which means the floor of the city.

The ceilings are of the highest quality, the walls are of the finest material, and the furniture is of the best. The store is a place where you can find everything you need for your home, and at prices that are very low.
